

Suicide Terror Attack Response Training

The rules have changed:

Most counter terror experts agree that it is not if but when our country will be forced to deal with suicide bombers/ attackers. Law Enforcement and other Government Officials will be asked if they were prepared with the latest training and equipment. This course offers an opportunity to be proactive in this critical area of public safety.

General: Day one of this course will focus on the history, profiles, and tactics used by suicide bombers. The second and third days will focus on the response to the suicide bomber event and the mitigation of the harm caused by such an attack. Officers will have the opportunity to demonstrate lesson learned with Simunitions and live fire exercises. The graduate will be able to develop, create, and implement strategies to mitigate the harm caused by suicide attackers.
